The Bee-Line is Westchester County’s bus system and provides convenient service connecting residents to jobs, school, recreation, shopping and other regional transportation services. Many Westchester County residences and workplaces are within walking distance to a Bee-Line bus route, making the bus both close and convenient. Riding public transit is a great travel choice. It helps our environment by reducing air pollution and traffic congestion. Transit fares are competitive with the out-of-pocket costs of driving, especially if an employee would otherwise have to pay for parking. For those with special needs, the County offers ParaTransit transportation. Under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), disability alone does not qualify a person to ride the ParaTransit system. A person must be functionally unable to use the fixed-route regular Bee-Line service.
